

I object to allowing cell phone use in flight -- it will disturb other passengers by making the noise level on the plane untenable. While listening can be done with earphones, constant speaking cannot be suppressed.